LOCAL NEWS.

Well, it can rain, can't it?

A number from this section are going to the Kansas harvest fields.

J. H. Stalling returned this week from an extended visit to the farm.

Z. Cain made Beaver a call the past week.

Francis Knowles was over from Knowles Saturday and spent the day in town.

W. B. Severs, of Couch, was among the business callers in the county seat Saturday.

Clift & Larsen were the best bidders on the cement machine sold by the county Saturday.

W. H. Coats was over from Tyrone Saturday on the saloon remonstrance case.

Mrs. O. D. Smith, who has been helping out in the HERALD office the past few weeks, is confined to her home by a severe attack of the Grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. John Osborn, of Pueblo, who have been visiting relatives here the past two weeks, left Monday for points north and east. They will visit Jamestown before returning home.

A number of Beaver's young people spent Sunday at Allen's grove the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allen. They report plenty of good time and ice cream in proportion.

A letter from Mrs. F. P. Madison, of 212 N. Lawrence, Wichita, Kansas, encloses one "plunk" and says, "Send the HERALD." F. P. is in a veterinary hospital and is doing well.

A merchant using Baking Powder stationary, looks to the printer about the same as it would to the merchant to see the printer get his groceries, etc. of a mail-order house.

Charles Laughton, of Pronto, and Republican candidate for county superintendent, was a Beaver caller this week. Wonder who told him that his interests here were in jeopardy?

Dr. L. S. Munsell left Wednesday for a trip to the Pacific Coast, where he expects to spend six weeks in visiting and sight-seeing. Of course he will have a scrumptious time.

Beaver Gets Cold Shoulder.

Guymon, Okla., June 15th '07.
BEAVER HERALD: Will you please give notice that the examination for certificates will be held in Guymon on June 27th and 28th '07 and at no other place.
Yours Truly,
Ella Baker, By Wilson.

Heretofore it has been the custom to hold examinations at both Beaver and Guymon.

J. C. Dodge was taken suddenly seriously ill at Webb's store, where he is clerking, Friday evening and it was necessary to take him home in a carriage. He is still unable to be out but is improving.

Is it the duty of the city dads or the Board of Health to look after the sanitary condition of the town? Whose ever duty it is, those filthy and vile smelling alleys in some parts of town should be ordered cleaned up before a pestilence is bred, or a heavy fine imposed for failure to do so.

David D. Frank, Co. I, 27th Illinois infantry, died in the hospital June 12th of mitral insufficiency, aged 70. He was admitted to the Soldiers' Home, at Leavenworth, Kansas, December, 26 1905, from Tapley, Beaver county, Oklahoma. The deceased leaves a sister living in St. Joe, Mo.—Communicated.

Mrs. M. Wilson Mason, the Australian Evangelist of the Christian church will begin a series of Evangelistic services at the Presbyterian church to-night. The meetings will continue till further notice. Mrs. Mason will be assisted by her husband Dr. J. Mason. Be sure and be on hand at 8 o'clock so as to secure a seat. Parties securing a seat are requested not to give them up during the evening.

One of our prominent citizens, a young married man, by the way, who has been in the habit of wiping the dishes for his wife pretty regularly since they went to house-keeping, "soured on his job" the other day and rebelled. He said, "Wiping dishes is not a man's job anyhow, and I am not going to do it anymore." His wife, not feeling disposed to lose his help, and knowing he was of a religious turn, went and got the Bible off the front room stand and read to him from the 13th verse of the 21st chapter of II Kings, as follows: "will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, turning it upside down." It is needless for us to remark that the young married man is still doing his dish wiping stunt.—X

Notice.

To all persons having accounts and notes due to the late business of F. P. Madison, notice is hereby given that the same will be found at The Bank of Beaver City and all are requested to call and make immediate settlement and save costs of collection.

The sidewalks in some parts of town are badly in need of repair. Much of this damage has been caused by promiscuous driving across the walks. Ordinarily people are supposed to have more mother wit than to thus damage property and, when they fail to display it they should be fined $5.00 for each offense, according to the village ordinance enacted.

A. C. Huddleston, of Logan, and C. M. Babb, of Madison, were in Beaver Saturday. They came over to help organize a Fruit Growers' Association but owing to the loss of all fruit by frost there was not much interest manifested and the meeting was postponed until a later date. They report a total loss of all fruit except a few berries and they estimate their loss at not less than $500.00.

Rock's "Few Last Words" in the Journal last week, sounded like the wail of a dying calf (apologies to the calf.) Mercy! Just think of it! Rock refuses to support Newman for Representative. Lucky for Newman but "Heavens to Betsy and the Babies!" we hope he will withhold his support from the Republican nominee. The G. O. P. welcomes the "Republican principle" but has no room for the party-traitor. Deliver us!

Frank Long was up from Englewood the first of the week and, while here, called at this office and adjusted accounts. Frank, with his brother, is engaged in the mercantile business at Englewood and is enjoying a handsome trade. He says the big bug-a-boo over the new cement town over there is principally hot air and that Old Englewood is built on a rock and will stand and continue to grow bigger and better and prosper. It seems to be a case where the Pot calls the Kettle black and both sides are in the wrong—may be one a little more "wronger." At all events, it is too bad that those people didn't get together and build one good town that could compete with Beaver and Wichita, when the Englewood Santa Fe branch is extended to Beaver.

No Sore Spots Here.

Zelma, Okla., June 11th, '07
Editor BEAVER HERALD:
Through the columns of your paper, I desire to thank those who supported me in the recent campaign. I appreciate their support as much as if I had been nominated, and want to assure them I am still a supporter of Democracy.
Very Truly,
Em Herring.

She Won't Move.

Esther, Okla., June 8th '07
Editor BEAVER HERALD:
Please correct a statement in the Sands City items which said: "Mrs. Smith, of Esther post office, is talking of moving to Sands City." I have not talked of moving there or anywhere else.
Mrs. Esther Smith.

The above letter explains itself. Mrs. Smith will not move to Sands City. Our correspondent was no doubt misinformed.

You'll Have to Hurry.

The HERALD always gets out on time. Any notice intended for publication same week as received MUST reach this office not later than Wednesday forenoon. The paper goes to press Wednesday night. Bear this in mind and be on time. tf.

H. G. Wilcox, owner of a large farm in Randolph county, near Moberly, Mo., came in this morning on his way to Beaver county. O. T. He has there a large string of cattle which he will bring back to this market. Last fall Mr. Wilcox went through that country and when he saw so much cheap feed lying around he invested in a string of steers, and these he has had fed on ground kaffir corn, which he thinks is a good feed. "That country," said Mr. Wilcox, "certainly offers inducements to the feeder, with its abundance of cheap feed. Then it excels Missouri in one other respect, and that is in having no muddy weather through the winter. This Missouri clay sticks when it gets wet, and is very troublesome to the cattle feeder along in the winter and spring months! Cattle feeders in Oklahoma can beat us in a good many things, especially in producing cattle fit to kill on cheaper feed."—K. C. Dwyer's Telegram.

The Madison Stock of Goods.

Well known to the people of Beaver City and surrounding country is now being sold by R. M. McConnell of Oklahoma City. The man who bought the same M. W. Travis is here conducting the sale, and will continue the same from day to day until the entire stock is closed out. This is a grand opportunity to get some good bargains in some good stuff, as Mr. Madison was known to carry a good up to date line of goods. The entire stock is going at absolute first cost, and at the rate it is going, it will last but a few days. Any one wishing store furniture and fixtures, such as Show Cases, Scales, Scoops, Cans, Safe, etc. Will do well to call soon at the Madison Store in Beaver City.

A Quiet Wedding.

A quiet wedding occurred at the Illinois, Sunday afternoon, June 9th 1907 at 3:30 o'clock which united Miss Winnie Marvin Holt and J. S. Morris, into the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. C. Canter, of Tyrone, officiating.

The wedding was a surprise to everyone, as a later date had been set, but on account of Mr. Morris' accident in the railroad wreck, the marriage was hastened.
The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Jennie Holt, of Friendship, Oklahoma, and is well known in Hooker, having visited friends here, winning the hearts of all who met her, by her charming ways and gracious manners.
The groom is just "Joe" to his many friends. A more enterprising man would be hard to find.

The Advance joins with friends in wishing this couple a world of happiness and prosperity. The happy couple started to house-keeping in the Lovett property, where they are at home to their friends.—Hooker Advance.
The groom's many Beaver friends join in all good wishes for his matrimonial felicity and feel assured that his charming wife will nurse him to speedy recovery from his recent injury.

Our readers will be glad to learn that Grandpa Groves has sufficiently recovered as to be able to go out to the home of his son, Gene on the North Flat. The old gentleman will probably never regain his vision in the right eye but with warm weather and sunshine he will no doubt regain sufficient strength as to be able to be about and greet his hosts of friends in his usual jovial manner.

Curt Holmes Dead.

The many friends of Curt Holmes, formerly of The Bank of Beaver City, will be grieved to learn of his untimely demise recently at Denver, Colorado, being a victim of consumption.

After leaving Beaver, Mr. Holmes went to Grand and it was there that he contracted the malady that cost him his life while he was just in the bloom of his manhood, by too close application to business. He went to Colorado some two or three years ago but to no avail.

A letter from our old friends, J. V. Thompson and wife, now of Uhrichsville, Ohio, says that Mrs. Thompson has been very poorly all winter and spring but is now improved. The same story of late frost and snow and no fruit comes from them. They have a neat little home and are comfortably located among their relatives but, we'll venture J. V. would love to see old Beaver again. There are a lot of us who would be right glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Thompson too.

"Some people have an idea when they pay a dollar a year for a paper they own the whole proposition, including the editor, and can run both to suit themselves," declared Bob White, of the Mexico Ledger, rather pugnaciously. Along this line an exchange editorially and pointedly says: "Occasionally there is a fellow comes in and pays up a year or two of arrears and then with a pitying look at the editor as if he felt sorry that he was going to loose his subscription, says: 'I guess you might as well stop my paper; I would like to help you, but I am getting more papers than I can read.' Bless your life, sonny, the editor never loses any sleep over losing a subscriber. He wants all the subscribers he can get, the more the better, but he wants those who appreciate his paper and consider that they are getting value received for their money. We do not want your subscription as a matter of charity. If you don't want the paper say so; its a business proposition with the editor. Don't subscribe for our paper as a matter of charity. It costs you a dollar a year and you could not print one for $500.00—X
